Payments may be made by money order, check, cashier’s check, or credit card. NOTE: ALL CREDIT CARD TRANSACTIONS ARE SUBJECT TO A 3% CONVENIENCE FEE.

CANCELLATION POLICY

A full refund will be made to any student who cancels the enrollment contract within 72 hours (until midnight of the third day excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays) after the enrollment contract is signed. A full refund will also be made to any student who cancels enrollment within the student’s first three scheduled class days, except that the school may retain not more than $100 in any administrative fees charged, as well as items of extra expense that are necessary for the portion of the program attended and stated separately on the enrollment agreement. A full refund will be made to any enrolled applicant rejected by the school or cancellation of program by the school.

REFUND POLICY

1. Refund computations will be based on scheduled course time* of class attendance through the last date of attendance. Leaves of absence, suspensions and school holidays will not be counted as part of the scheduled class attendance.
2. The effective date of termination for refund purposes will be the earliest of the following:
 - a) The last day of attendance, if the student is terminated by the school;
 - b) The date of receipt of written notice from the student; or
 - c) (10) school days following the last date of attendance.
3. If tuition and fees are collected in advance of entrance, and if after expiration of the (72) hour cancellation privilege the student does not enter school, not more than $100 in any administrative fees charged shall be retained by the school for the entire residence program or synchronous distance education course.
4. If a student enters a residence or synchronous distance education program and withdraws or is otherwise terminated after the cancellation period, the school or college may retain not more than $100 in any administrative fees charged for the entire program. The minimum refund of the remaining tuition and fees will be the pro rata portion of tuition, fees, and other charges that the number of hours remaining in the portion of the course or program for which the student has been charged after the effective date of termination bears to the total number of hours in the portion of the course or program for which the student has been charged, except that a student may not collect a refund if the student has completed 75 percent or more of the total number of hours in the portion of the program for which the student has been charged on the effective date of termination.
5. Refunds for items of extra expense to the student, such as books, tools, or other supplies are to be handled separately from refund of tuition and other academic fees. The student will not be required to purchase instructional supplies, books and tools until such time as these materials are required. Once these materials are purchased, no refund will be made. For full refunds, the school can withhold costs for these types of items from the refund as long as they were necessary for the portion of the program attended and separately stated in the enrollment agreement. Any such items not required for the portion of the program attended must be included in the refund.
6. A student who withdraws for a reason unrelated to the student's academic status after the 75 percent completion mark and requests a grade at the time of withdrawal shall be given a grade of "incomplete" and permitted to re-enroll in the course or program during the 12-month period following the date the student withdrew without payment of additional tuition for that portion of the course or program.

¹Refund worksheets will be processed based on portions. Each semester is equal to one portion. More simply, the refund is based on the precise number of course time hours the student has paid for, but not yet used, at the point of termination, up to the 75% completion mark, after which no refund is due. Form PS-1040R provides the precise calculation.

7. A full refund of all tuition and fees is due and refundable in each of the following cases:
- An enrollee is not accepted by the school;
 - If the course of instruction is discontinued by the school and this prevents the student from completing the course; or
 - If the student's enrollment was procured as a result of any misrepresentation in advertising, promotional materials of the school, or representations by the owner or representatives of the school.

A full or partial refund may also be due in other circumstances of program deficiencies or violations of requirements for career schools and colleges.

8. REFUND POLICY FOR STUDENTS CALLED TO ACTIVE MILITARY SERVICE.

A student of the school or college who withdraws from the school or college as a result of the student being called to active duty in a military service of the United States or the Texas National Guard may elect one of the following options for each program in which the student is enrolled:

- If tuition and fees are collected in advance of the withdrawal, a pro rata refund of any tuition, fees, or other charges paid by the student for the program and a cancellation of any unpaid tuition, fees, or other charges owed by the student for the portion of the program the student does not complete following withdrawal;
 - A grade of incomplete with the designation "withdrawn-military" for the courses in the program, other than courses for which the student has previously received a grade on the student's transcript, and the right to re-enroll in the program, or a substantially equivalent program if that program is no longer available, not later than the first anniversary of the date the student is discharged from active military duty without payment of additional tuition, fees, or other charges for the program other than any previously unpaid balance of the original tuition, fees, and charges for books for the program; or
 - The assignment of an appropriate final grade or credit for the courses in the program, but only if the instructor or instructors of the program determine that the student has:
 - satisfactorily completed at least 90 percent of the required coursework for the program; and
 - demonstrated sufficient mastery of the program material to receive credit for completing the program.
9. The payment of refunds will be totally completed such that the refund instrument has been negotiated or credited into the proper account(s), within 45 days after the effective date of termination.

Refund Policy for Seminars

1. Refund computations will be based on the period of enrollment computed on basis of course time (clock hours).
2. The effective date of termination for refund purposes will be the earliest of the following:
 - (a) the last date of attendance; or
 - (b) the date of receipt of written notice from the student.
3. If tuition and fees are collected in advance of entrance, and the student does not enter school, not more than $100 shall be retained by the school.
4. If the student fails to enter the seminar, withdraws, or is discontinued at any time before completion of the seminar, the student will be refunded the pro rata portion of tuition, fees, and other charges that the number of class hours remaining in the seminar after the effective date of termination bears to the total number of class hours in the seminar.
5. A full refund of all tuition and fees is due in each of the following cases:
 - (a) an enrollee is not accepted by the school;
 - (b) if the seminar of instruction is discontinued by the school and thus prevents the student from completing the seminar; or
 - (c) if the student's enrollment was procured as a result of any misrepresentation in advertising, promotional materials of the school, or misrepresentations by the owner or representatives of the school.
6. REFUND POLICY FOR STUDENTS CALLED TO ACTIVE MILITARY SERVICE. A student of the school or college who withdraws from the school or college as a result of the student being called to active duty in a military service of the United States or the Texas National Guard may elect one of the following options for each program in which the student is enrolled:
 - (a) if tuition and fees are collected in advance of the withdrawal, a pro rata refund of any tuition, fees, or other charges paid by the student for the program and a cancellation of any unpaid tuition, fees, or other charges owed by the student for the portion of the program the student does not complete following withdrawal;

(b) a grade of incomplete with the designation "withdrawn-military" for the courses in the program, other than courses for which the student has previously received a grade on the student's transcript, and the right to re-enroll in the program, or a substantially equivalent program if that program is no longer available, not later than the first anniversary of the date the student is discharged from active military duty without payment of additional tuition, fees, or other charges for the program other than any previously unpaid balance of the original tuition, fees, and charges for books for the program; or

(c) the assignment of an appropriate final grade or credit for the courses in the program, but only if the instructor or instructors of the program determine that the student has:

(1) satisfactorily completed at least 90 percent of the required coursework for the program; and

(2) demonstrated sufficient mastery of the program material to receive credit for completing the program.

7. Refunds will be totally consummated within 60 days after the effective date of termination.

Students will be given a username and password to access their courses. Any discrepancies or questions about grades should be made in writing or by email to info@csftw.edu.

Qualitative Progress:

The student must maintain a grade point average in each subject of at least 70% in each subject based on all classes, homework, written final exam and final practicum and completion of all required lab practicum hours. When a course is repeated, the new grade will replace the original grade for the purposes of the calculation of the GPA. Students are limited to attempting a course (2) times to pass. Additional tuition and fees will apply.

Quantitative Progress:

Students are required to make quantitative progress toward program completion. To be making satisfactory academic progress, a student must attend at least 80% of the scheduled class hours on a cumulative basis during each evaluation period.

Maximum Time Frame:

Students must complete their program within a specified maximum time frame. At The Culinary School of Fort Worth, the maximum time frame is 150% of the normal program length as measured in calendar time. For example, The Professional Culinary Program, (45) weeks in length, must be completed in (68) weeks. Scheduled school days off are not included in this time frame.

Transfer Students:

Transfer students from outside The School will be evaluated only on the work completed while at The Culinary School of Fort Worth. A transfer student must complete their program of study within 150% of the time of a student making normal academic progress.

Evaluation of SAP:

Satisfactory academic progress is evaluated one time per semester. The grading periods for individual classes are defined in the class structure section for each program on pages 20 in this catalog. Each evaluation will include an assessment of the qualitative and quantitative measure of student's progress.

Academic Warning

Students that fail to meet SAP requirements will be placed on academic warning. The warning will be in effect until the end of the grading period. If grades are restored to SAP status at the end of the grading period, academic warning will be lifted. If a student does not attain SAP by the end of the grading period (grading period defined on page 20), the student will fail the class and will be required to retake the class the following semester. If the student does not pass the class by the end of the repeated semester, he/she will be withdrawn from the school due to failure to meet satisfactory academic progress (SAP).

Appeals

A student may appeal the determination that he or she is not meeting SAP requirements by submitting a written appeal. The appeal must be submitted within one week of receiving notification that SAP requirements were not met. The student must provide supporting documentation with the written appeal that includes a statement as to why he/she failed to meet SAP and what has changed that will allow them to meet SAP standards at the end of the next SAP evaluation. The school director will decide if the appeal is to be accepted or rejected and notify the student in time for the student to enroll in the next term. If the director determines the appeal may be granted, the student will be required to follow an academic plan.

Academic Plan:

An academic plan will be developed by the faculty/staff and the student to ensure that the student is able to meet the school's SAP requirements. The plan may include more frequent SAP evaluations before the end of the normal evaluation period.

Termination

A student will be terminated from The Culinary School of Fort Worth for failure to meet SAP. Failure to meet SAP includes poor attendance, poor performance during class labs, or breaking of the student contract within the enrollment agreement.

Readmittance

Under Title 40, Texas Administrative Code, Section 807.171.175, a student terminated for unsatisfactory progress cannot be readmitted until a minimum of one course has passed. To be readmitted, the student must have a meeting with the President or office management and get approval to be admitted again.

If a student is terminated due to poor attendance, then the student may not reenter before the start of the next semester.

Incomplete Grades

In the case of a student on leave of absence, the missing grades will be considered incomplete until the student returns and the work is completed. All incomplete work must be completed by the end of the semester in which the student returns.

Dropped Courses

No grades will be issued for a class that the student drops.

Course Repetitions

When a course is repeated, the new grade will replace the original grade. Students may have only two (2) attempts to pass a course.

Attendance

The student's attendance record is one of the prime factors in successful job placement as well as completion of the program. Normal class hours are outlined in the registration form as well as the subject syllabus. Students must be present in the class for the scheduled time and are expected to attend the entire session as scheduled. Students are expected to attend every class in which they are enrolled. The Culinary School of Fort Worth acknowledges that there are days when a student cannot attend school or arrives late for a class due to unavoidable circumstances. However, students must attend a minimum of 80% of the contact hours in each subject and program to receive credit. If absences exceed 20% of the total classroom hours for the subject, the student will receive an "0" and have to repeat the course. Certain extenuating circumstances for multiple missed classes will be taken into consideration on a case-by-case basis, may require documentation, and will need to be approved in writing by the President.

Recording attendance:

Attendance will be recorded every single class day. It is the chef instructors' responsibility to mark each student on the attendance sheet as present or absent. An operations team member will then take the grade/attendance sheet after each day and enter the attendance into the school's online student portal. This will tally the student's attendance percentage into one final percentage for each semester.

1. Absences

You must maintain a passing grade average in each course to obtain your certificate of completion. You will receive a zero in any class that is missed. Once the missed classes have been made up, your certificate will be granted.

2. Tardies

Students are expected to be in class in uniform and ready to class at the time that class is scheduled. A Student who is 15 minutes late to class is considered tardy. The student must stay after class and talk to the chef instructor to determine what was missed for the class and how it is to be made up. Every three classes that you arrive late equals 1 day of absence. Students that are 30+ minutes late will not be allowed to attend class.

3. Early Dismissal

All students are required to stay until the kitchen is cleaned and they have been dismissed. If you need to be dismissed early, you must discuss this with the chef instructor prior to that class day. An early dismissal will be recorded as a tardy.

4. Make-up Work

At the beginning of each subject, a policy for make-up work will be distributed within the syllabus. All make up work shall be completed in accordance with Title 40, Texas Administrative Code, Section 807.174.C. The student is responsible for contacting the school administrator and the chef instructor for the missed class within two days of missed class to determine when the missed class can be made up. This is done by sending an email to info@csftw.edu, verbal conversations will not constitute contact. The preparatory work for the missed class shall be brought to the make-up session for grading. No make-up classes can be scheduled if a student exceeds 20% of the classroom hours (six classes) missed, or is terminated.

All make-up work shall:

- Be supervised by an instructor approved for the subject being made up;
- Require the student to demonstrate substantially the same level of knowledge or competence expected of a student who attended the scheduled class;
- The meeting with the chef instructor shall be completed within (2) weeks of the missed class date;
- Be documented by the school as being completed, recording the date, time, duration of the make-up session, and the name of the supervising instructor; and
- Be signed and dated by the student to acknowledge the make-up session.

5. Leaves of Absence

Students will be granted a leave of absence from school for family emergencies or prolonged illness. The student is required to send a letter to the school stating the reasons for the absence and anticipated time away from school. The student must request a leave of absence within ten calendar days following the last day attended or he/she will be withdrawn.

A written statement, as to why the leave of absence was granted, signed by both the student and the Director of School indicating approval, shall be placed in the student's permanent file. The student's signature attests that they understand the procedures and implications for returning or not returning to school.

In a 12-month calendar period, a student may have no more than (2) leaves of absence. For a program of (200) clock hours or less, a student may be on leave of absence for a total of (30) calendar days. For programs of more than 200 clock hours, a student may be on leave of absence for a total of (60) calendar days. The leave of absence may be extended as long as it does not exceed the maximum number of days as indicated above.

The school will not access any additional fees as the result of the leave of absence.

Student Conduct Policy

Each student at the beginning of each course will be required to read, understand and agree to abide by the Student Conduct Policy and Contract. If the student should violate any of the requirements in the contract, they will be asked to leave class. They will be admitted back to class the following week. If the contract is broken again, the student will need to speak to the Director of School before being allowed back into class. The second offense will place the student on warning with the school. If the contract is broken a third time, the student will be terminated from the school.

Student Conduct

Class Requirements:

- ❖❖ Students are required to have a notebook, pencil, or pen each day.
- ❖❖ Students are to complete homework as assigned.
- ❖❖ Students who do not complete an assignment when the assignment is due will receive a “0” grade for that assignment.
- ❖❖ Students are required to be in uniform each day.
- ❖❖ Students are to act in a professional manner; language, personal hygiene, ability to communicate, and take responsibility in their daily assignments.

A chef

- Stands erect, walks straight without hands in pockets in the kitchen.
- Avoids touching any part of his or her body while involved in food preparation.

- Exercises self-discipline

Uniform Requirements (No Exceptions)

You must report to class in full uniform and remain in full uniform at all times until you leave the premises. Students not in full uniform will be dismissed or not admitted into class. You must have your tool kit (standard issue only by The School) and curriculum books (purchased through The School only) with you when reporting to class. A clean and neat appearance is a must at all times. Chefs who compromise their uniform, compromise their professionalism; compromises that soon spread to their mise en place, their cuisine, their customer service, their sense of team spirit, and ultimately, to their personal commitment to excellence in their career.

Hat - White hat (School issued only)

Neckerchief – White neckerchief (School issued only)

White Chef's Coat (School issued only) – Double Breasted White Cotton Chef Jacket that is fully buttoned up and is freshly cleaned and pressed with sleeves cuffs.

Pants - Checkered (School issued only). These must be hemmed properly where the end of the pant lies upon the shoe. NO ROLLED UP OR CUFFED PANTS.

Apron – White 4 way (School issued only). The apron must be freshly cleaned and pressed.

LACK OF UNIFORM MEANS FAILURE TO ATTEND AND PARTICIPATE IN CLASS!

Personal Hygiene Requirements and Grooming:

- Your hat must completely cover your hair. If this is not possible, you must first cover your hair with a hair net before wearing your hat. When you are assigned to areas where a hat is not required, you still must cover your hair with a hair net, unless you have a short haircut, i.e., your hair does not touch your collar. Beads and/or other ornaments are not permitted.
- Short, straight mustaches are permissible (trimmed evenly at upper lip)
- Because sideburns cannot be covered by a hair net, they must be clipped short, 1" above the earlobes
- Fingernails must be kept short and immaculately clean at all times. Nail polish and/or fake nails are not allowed. If the aforementioned is not abided by, the student must wear gloves throughout the class.
- Cuts, wounds, scratches or skin blemishes from the finger tips to the beginning of the forearm must be protected by surgical rubber gloves. In case of skin conditions, the student must provide proper medical documentation to the Director of School as well as the Chef Instructor for the class. A decision regarding acceptance to class will be determined by the Director of School and/or his/her designee.

- You may not use perfume or cologne.
- Clean and ironed uniforms are expected daily.
- Sweaters or coats may not be worn in classrooms or laboratories.

Safety Contract:

Safety is important in any career setting, but in a production kitchen safety is of the utmost importance. A production kitchen has razor sharp knives and equipment, temperatures that exceed 500 degrees, equipment that is extremely heavy and motors that run constantly.

Code of Ethics:

Deal honestly and truthfully in all matters. Respect the property and resources of others, and do not use such property or resources for personal gain. Consider the interest of The School and carry out their established policies. Avoid activities that might bring discredit to oneself, the school, colleagues or the profession.

Harassment Policy

In a society of differing generations, cultures and backgrounds, what is acceptable behavior to one person may be unacceptable to another, and it may be illegal.

It is the policy of The Culinary School of Fort Worth that students, employees and others acting on The Culinary School of Fort Worth's behalf are entitled to respectful treatment in the classroom and workplace. Being respected means being treated honestly and professionally, with your unique talents and perspectives valued. A respectful workplace is about more than compliance with the law. It is a working environment that is free of inappropriate behavior of all kinds and harassment because of age, disability, marital status, race or color, national origin, religion, sex or sexual orientation.

If you believe you are being harassed or sexually harassed, or know someone who is, you should act promptly. Correcting the situation immediately or at least talking with someone familiar with the issues and ways to respond is in everyone's best interest. Ignoring the situation and hoping that it will correct itself allows the harassment to continue.

Nor should you be afraid that if you talk with someone about the situation, you will be subject to retaliation, particularly if the person causing the harassment has power over you (a supervisor, a teacher, etc.). Under no circumstances will The Culinary School of Fort Worth allow reprisals against a person who in good faith reports or provides information about harassment, sexual harassment or behavior that might constitute sexual harassment. In some instances, you may simply want to talk to someone. Perhaps you are not sure that the other person's behavior is wrong, or maybe you know that it is wrong, but you are unsure what to do about it. Similarly, if you are not sure about your own interactions with someone and are concerned that they have been misunderstood, you should consider talking with someone to see how the situation can be resolved.

In addition to confidential discussions, the policy describes other options, including intervention by neutral third parties, and the formal grievance and disciplinary procedures.

Here is how The Culinary School of Fort Worth defines harassment:

Examples of harassment that may violate the law and will violate this policy include:

- Oral or written communications that contain offensive name-calling, jokes, slurs, negative stereotyping, or threats. This includes comments or jokes that are distasteful or targeted at individuals or groups based on age, disability, marital status, national origin, race or color, religion, sex or sexual orientation.
- Nonverbal conduct, such as staring, leering and giving inappropriate gifts. Physical conduct, such as assault or unwanted touching.
- Visual images, such as derogatory or offensive pictures, cartoons, drawings or gestures. Such prohibited images include those in hard copy or electronic form.

The Culinary School of Fort Worth defines sexual harassment as:

"Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other visual, verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:

1. It is implicitly or explicitly suggested that submission to or rejection of the conduct will be a factor in academic or employment decisions or evaluations, or permission to participate in a school activity; or
2. The conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's academic or work performance, or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive academic or work environment."

If you think someone is harassing or sexually harassing you or someone you know, or if you are troubled by the definition quoted above as it may apply to your own behavior, you should read the following policy and consider what actions are appropriate.

Drug and Alcohol Use

While on The Culinary School of Fort Worth premises and while participating in business-related activities of The Culinary School of Fort Worth, no student may use, possess, distribute, sell, or be under the influence of illegal drugs or excessive alcohol. The legal use of prescribed drugs is permitted during class, only if it does not impair a student's ability to perform the essential functions of the class effectively and in a safe manner that does not endanger other individuals in the classroom.

Any student that is found in possession of or under the influence of drugs or alcohol on the school premises, will be subject to termination from the program. Consumption of alcohol on the school premises will only be authorized during the equivalent culinary class.

Complaint Procedure

If you experience or witness harassment or sexual harassment in the workplace or academic setting, report it immediately to the Director of The Culinary School of Fort Worth. You may also report harassment to any other member of The Culinary School of Fort Worth's management or ownership team. All allegations of sexual harassment will be quickly investigated. To the extent possible, your confidentiality and that of any witnesses and the alleged harasser will be protected against unnecessary disclosure. When the investigation is completed, you will be informed of the outcome of that investigation.

Retaliation Prohibited

The Culinary School of Fort Worth will permit no employment or academic retaliation against anyone who brings a complaint of harassment or sexual harassment or who speaks as a witness in the investigation of a complaint of harassment or sexual harassment.

Penalties

Harassment including sexual harassment will not be tolerated at The Culinary School of Fort Worth. If an investigation of any allegation of harassment or sexual harassment shows that harassing behavior has taken place, the harasser will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.

Withdrawal from the complaint process: A complainant may withdraw from this process at any time. Notice of such withdrawal must be provided in writing to The Culinary School of Fort Worth.

Stage I: Intervention -Advice and Counsel Stage:

Students, staff, employees or faculty members believing they have been victims of harassment or sexual harassment are encouraged to discuss their complaint or concerns in a timely fashion with the director or owner of The Culinary School of Fort Worth. Actions that can be taken by the counselor in the intervention step include, but are not limited to:

1. listening to the complainant to find out what action is desired;
2. advising the parties about the scope of The Culinary School of Fort Worth's harassment and sexual harassment policy and procedures;
3. providing materials and information on recommended actions that the complainant may consider communicating the unwelcome nature of the behavior of the respondent, such as advising the complainant on how to write a letter designed to stop unwelcome behavior;
4. sending a letter to everyone in The School indicating concern about sexual harassment and enclosing a copy of the policy;
5. undertaking a preliminary and confidential investigation;
6. conducting a workshop on sexual harassment for the school and keeping an attendance record as proof of notice given to the respondent of this policy;
7. having a supervisor speak to and counsel the respondent;
8. having the complainant meet with the respondent, with a third-party present, to discuss the complaint;
9. helping to draft an agreement providing for a letter of apology, a transfer of either party, a voluntary resignation, or other levels of appropriate school sanctions; or
10. following up on an inquiry to see if the complaint has been resolved or if the complainant still wishes to take further action.

If a potential case of sexual harassment is discussed with one of these counselors, with written permission of the complainant the director or owner may contact the individual against whom a complaint may be filed. Without disclosing any confidential information, the counselor will inform the potential respondent that a complaint may be filed. A copy of the Culinary School of Fort Worth harassment and sexual harassment policy will then be sent to the potential respondent for his/her education, and he/she will be encouraged to comply with that policy.

Confidentiality: All information discussed and documents presented during the advice and counsel stage will be kept confidential by the director or owner. On request, all documents accumulated during the intervention phase will be returned to the parties who provided the documentation.

Records: The Culinary School of Fort Worth will maintain sufficient records to document:

1. the date of the complaint and the date of the alleged incident
2. the name of the complainant and the respondent
3. counsel provided
4. action taken by complainant
5. action taken by counselor.

If the complainant decides to terminate the intervention, this action will not necessarily preclude an investigation by the Culinary School of Fort Worth.

Stage II: Intervention -Complaint Stage:

If a person files an official complaint, both the complainant and the respondent may seek the assistance of individuals willing to serve as advisors during the process. The advisor will have no formal role in the process other than to provide assistance and guidance.

If, after working within this intervention process, an individual chooses to lodge an official complaint alleging harassment or sexual harassment in violation of the school's harassment and sexual harassment policy, disciplinary actions may include termination or dismissal from the school.
